DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7-9, 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Clark in view of Coleman or Kim et al.

There is disclosed in Clark an oven having a main body 12, 14, 16, 18, the oven comprising: a rear panel 30 detachably placed inside the main body; side panels 28 detachably connected to opposite sides of the rear panel; an upper heater 42 and a lower heater 52 disposed at an upper panel 34 and a lower panel 36 of the oven, the upper heater providing a downwardly sloped protrusion in the upper panel; and a ceramic material coating 32, 38 on the surface of the oven panels.

Coleman discloses the use of an upper downwardly sloped heater 6 and lower heater 7 arranged within a heating oven.

Kim discloses an upper heater 41 which can be sloped downwardly.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to substitute the heater arrangement taught in Clark with that taught in Coleman or Kim, in order to enhance the heating ability of the oven.

In regards to the recited use of the device as a bread maker, there is provided no structure in the claims define the device as such.

Claims 1, 2, 5, 6 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hedenberg '009 in view of Clark.

There is disclosed in Hedenberg a bread maker, comprising: a main body 2; an oven (see fig. 2) having side walls; a door 10; an upper sloped heater 20 and lower heater 18; a baking tray 25; and baking tray rails 34 connected to a lower portion of the oven side walls.

Clark, as discussed in the rejection above, discloses the use of rear and side oven panels having a ceramic coating, as well as an upper panel (upper bending part) and lower panel (lower bending part) attached to an upper end and lower end of the rear panel.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide a ceramic coating on the oven side walls of Hedenberg as taught by Clark, in order to protect the surface of the walls.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the oven of Hedenberg with rear, upper and lower detachable walls in addition to the side walls as taught by Clark, for the purpose of providing a complete enclosed oven chamber having good heat reflecting capabilities. Additionally, the walls of the oven will provide protection from heat for the surrounding elements within the main body of the bread maker.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 7-12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant's arguments filed 15 August 2006, regarding claims 1-6, have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

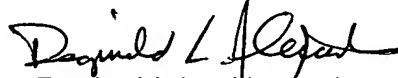

Applicant argues that the prior art fails to disclose a sloped heater. A view of figure 3 of Hedenberg discloses that the upper heater 20 is sloped downwardly.
